Program outline

The program aims to provide participants with the skills and knowledge required to work within the framework of immunisation and public health, with a focus on an understanding of the immune system, how vaccines work and assessing a client's eligibility for vaccinations.

Program outcome

Upon successful completion of the program students should have:

- Understand the impact of immunisation programs as a public health measure
- Knowledge of the immune response and how vaccines work
- Knowledge of the key features of vaccine preventable diseases
- Knowledge of the various vaccine types and their components
- Knowledge of legal and ethical considerations for immunisation support
- Knowledge of the risks and benefits of vaccination and utilises relevant information resources.

Program content

The Foundations of Immunisation Support Program is fully online consisting of blended learning which includes knowledge information, articles, learning videos and self reflection activities.

Program structure

The Foundations of Immunisation Program is a non-accredited program. There are no formal assessment requirements.

Program entry requirements

Entrants to the Foundations of Immunisation Support program must provide evidence of a relevant professional role. Relevant roles would include:

Immunisation Support Learning Pathway

Learning pathways is a new approach where we are giving the control of your learning journey back to you, the student.

The underlying rationale recognises that students are better able to learn when they can control the flow of their experience, or when their learning is self-directed.

A self-directed model of delivery allows access to a broader range of students regardless of geographic location and allows people to complete the program at a pace that suits their current lifestyle and workplace balance.

How it Works

The pathway starts by building your base knowledge with the online program, Foundations of Immunisation Support. You can then continue on with 4 online specialty programs - options include immunisation support in pregnancy, influenza, adults and older persons and school aged clients. Following on from this is Supporting Immunisation Practice, consisting of further learning, a face-to-face workshop in partnership with PHNs and workplace activities.

Successfully completing the pathway means you will have achieved the nationally accredited Course in Immunisation Support in Primary Healthcare (10764NAT).

You can choose to purchase the pathway all at once or pay and complete one learning at a time – the choice is now yours! In fact, once you have completed your enrolment, you can even choose when to activate your assessment.
