Course outline

The Perform Intravenous Cannulation course is grounded in evidence-based practices and teaching techniques that prioritise optimal patient care outcomes.

This course empowers participants to enhance their proficiency in preparing for, performing, and monitoring peripheral intravenous cannulation.

Course outcome

On completion of this course students will be able to:

- Assess the need for cannulation and correctly identify pathology requests and client application and cast removal.
- Choose and discuss the considerations that influence the correct selection of intravenous cannula size and insertion site.
- Perform and demonstrate the technique of peripheral intravenous cannula insertion, including securing the cannula in-situ.
- Manage the cannula until the time it is no longer required, and removal of the cannula is to be performed.
- Discuss and manage possible complications.
