

Promoting Participation in the National Immunisation Program

COURSE INFORMATION

Course snapshot

COURSE TITLE	Promoting Participation in the National Immunisation Program
COURSE SUMMARY	Promoting Participation in the National Immunisation program is designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge that can be applied to their day-to-day work and will help support a change of practice within their health organisation. By encouraging colleagues and peers to modify and change their current ways of practice they can make immunisation activities more conducive to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people.
VALUE FOR ORGANISATIONS	Becoming an effective communicator in healthcare is critical to ensuring we deliver good advice and therefore health outcomes to patients, families, and communities. The course provides a deeper understanding of how to encourage immunisation activity to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people.
